

TRIVIA MUNDI SCORE CARD – ENTERTAINMENT EDITION

First player to answer one question in each category wins.

Or alternatively you may play games using one or two categories only. You could rule that the questions in each category must be answered in the order they are listed below. A random question could be added in the last column to achieve victory, or players could decide the number of times each category must be answered.

It's fun to design your own formats and competitions.
